CHALKED SIGNS GUIDE RESCUERS

Cheering Message Is Found in Fatal Mine.

TWO SUFFERERS MADE CRAZY

They Shriek Wildly and Rush Away into Workings—Oldest of Rescued Men Comes from Mine Smoking Pipe.

Briceville, Tenn., Dec. 13.—Additional signs of life were discovered in the Cross Mountain mine. On the walls of the main shaft were found inscribed these words:

"We have gone to 23."

A crudely drawn "index hand" pointed toward the mine entry whose number was chalked down.

The rescue party penetrated cross-entry No. 23. No miners were found there, but additional directions for their rescue were found scrawled in chalk on the walls. The rescuers pressed on in the direction indicated by the chalk marks. Hours passed without the finding of any further trace of the men. Meantime numerous searchers sought in vain to rescue two men who had been with the five rescued at night. The two had been driven insane by their plight and were dashing wildly about the workings wherein they had been entombed Saturday with more than 100 others.

Altogether thirty bodies have been recovered.

The maddened miners are believed to be John Duff and John Smith. The news of their plight is being kept from their families, who have given them up for dead.

All night long men of the rescue squad chased the maniacs, but as soon as the rescuers got close on their trail the mad men dashed away, screaming wildly. First they scurried down the main entry, then scampered away into black recesses of the mine at the approach of men from the outside.

The searchers found seven bodies in one room far within the mine. All these were identified; one was that of a miner who had a wife and four children.

While the search for others continued the five who were rescued alive talked of their experiences.

"Bill" Henderson, the oldest of the rescued men, came out of the mine smoking his pipe and resisted efforts to carry him home.

"Oh, let me walk," he protested, but without avail. Henderson made the following statement of his experience:

"We bratticed up the entrance to the mine room. With our coats we fought back the after damp that came through the cracks in the brattice and then stuck out coats and other articles of wearing apparel in the nole of the brattice.

"We had lights, our dinner, and each of us had from a half to three-quarters of a gallon of coffee and water in our dinner pails.

"We remained in this room quietly for several hours, burning one light and taking turns at eating.

"Late Saturday evening Arthur Scott and Dore Irish left the room and attempted to make their way back and reach the entrance of the mine through the overpass. That was the last we saw of them. The next morning we made our way, the air having been purified by the fan, into the entry and passed over into No. 18, endeavoring to find the way out.

"We ran into gas and were forced to go back to room 2 in No. 19, where the air was pure. We remained there until discovered. We ate the last of our food about the middle of Sunday afternoon, but still had some water left and plenty of light. We were endeavoring to reach the main entrance again when we were found.

ENDS LIFE BY HANGING

Thomas G. McKinney of Birmingham Found Dead.

Birmingham, Mich., Dec. 13.—Despondent by reason of long-continued ill health, Thomas G. McKinney of this village went to his barn shortly after noon and hanged himself to a rafter with a tie strap. After peeling potatoes for dinner for his wife he left the house and as he did not return as soon as expected, Mrs. McKinney sent her son, Newman, aged eight, after his father. The boy came back with the word that his father was "sick." Mrs. McKinney then investigated and found her husband dead. He had jumped from a box with the strap around his neck and strangled to death.

McKinney was thirty-six years old, owner of a large farm and reputed to be worth $160,000. Justice Campbell decided an inquest was unnecessary.

THIEVES ARE PROMPTLY PUT UNDER SENTENCE

Ann Arbor, Dec. 13.—The prompt disposal of the case of Lennard and Hangwitz, the two horse thieves arrested in a raid by Sheriff Stark and a force of deputies, among them Officer Hipp of Ypsilanti, has been decidedly popular. They pleaded guilty before Judge Kinne Monday afternoon in the circuit court and received sentence within 75 hours of their apprehension. Herbert Lennard, who is held to be responsible for all the thefts committed, received a sentence of from three to 15 years in Jackson prison, with a recommendation of five years. He was given his choice of Jackson or Marquette and chose Jackson before Judge Kinne had time to finish asking the question. He has probably been taken there today.

While technically Hangwitz is as guilty as Lennard, he was so unmistakably led astray by the older man that he was given a sentence of 65 days in the Detroit House of Correction. His immediate confession and evident contrition secured this light sentence for him He claims to be a member of the German army who came to this country on an 18-month furlough and says he must be back in Hamburg by March 1.

The court room was crowded, many of the spectators being farmers who had suffered from the depredations of the two thieves.

Bowling Green Man Gets Horse.

D. L. Dunnipace of Bowling Green, Ohio, arrived here Tuesday morning to claim one of the horses found at the Lennard-Hangwitz place when the farm was raided by Sheriff Stark, Deputy Hipp, and the rest. At the time of the visit of the officers two horses were found in the barn, together with enough blankets, curry cambs, sets of harness, etc., to equip a livery stable. One of the horses belonged to a farmer living on the Dixboro road east of this city. Investigating the notices of horse thefts for the past months the officers came across one from Bowling Green that seemed to fit the description.

The matter of who gets the reward of $25 is uncertain. Both the police and the sheriff's force claim it. The officers at police headquarters found the notice among their papers and showed it to the sheriff. It was the sheriff who got the chance first of notifying Bowling Green and are now claiming the reward.

GAS COMPANY QUOTES FROM BOSTON PAPER

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 5, 1911.
Ypsilanti Daily Press,
Ypsilanti, Mich.

Gentlemen—The columns of your paper have been open to communications from various citizens on the subject of the franchise asked for by this Company and we ask you to print the following quotation from a paper written by Edkar N. Wrightington of Boston, published in the magazine "Public Service" in April, 1911:

"It is fortunate for the protection of some of our financial institutions against unfair agitations that they can depend upon the reasonableness of the people when they have been brought to realize some of the fundamental conditions affecting their relations with the public service corporations.

"Many hitherto popular fallacies have been exposed when subjected to the careful analysis of intelligent public opinion. At no time, for instance the theory of municipal ownership of public service undertakings was quite popular with some people. More recent experience has, however, demonstrated that even eliminating the frequent dishonesty and inevitable extravagance of public ownership, the income derived from charges to the public for service must be practically the same as under private plant. Taxes lost by the city are equivalent to taxes paid by the private company. Depreciation, although often ignored by municipal authorities, goes on just the same as with private ownership. The rate of return and the necessary investments by the city must also carry more than the ordinary interest rates at which the city bonds are placed, as municipalities are subject to practically the same business risks as are private companies.

"But such ideal conditions of operation by municipalities are in the nature of things practically impossible of realization. The municipality cannot command the services of the best men as managers of the public undertakings on account of the uncertainties of continuous employment through changes in political control. The demands of political patronage lead to the employment of inexperienced and oftentimes unnecessary employes.

"Graft and dishonesty are not necessary for the failure of public ownership. Municipalities are notoriously inefficient in conducting their ordinary business, even when administered honestly, consequently we are not surprised to find that in those instances in this country where their activities have been extended to the public service undertakings, they have inevitably led to failure. The presentation of such facts as these has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the public themselves that the application of the theory of municipal ownership is bound to be a failure and the agitation for it is distinctly on the wane."

Yours truly,
H. W. DOUGLAS.

WEEDING OUT JURYMEN

Lawyers in Packers' Trial Are Hard to Suit.

Seven Men Remain in Box When Court Adjourns for Lack of Veniremen.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—Only seven men remained in the jury box for the trial of the ten indicted packers when court adjourned because of the lack of jury material.

James Sheean, special counsel for the government, continued his "weeding out" process, challenging two more of the twelve men tendered by the packers. Three had been challenged in the morning.

Charles H. Horrie, owner of the Randolph market on North State street, told Mr. Sheean he never came in contact with any buyers or sellers at the stockyards.

"I understood you to say you formed an opinion concerning whether there is a combination among packers?" asked Mr. Sheean.

"I always found the keenest competition," replied Horrie.

"I did not want you to tell me that; but you have an opinion?"

"Yes, from my business experience."

He insisted he could be fair and impartial.

Mr. Sheean challenged Horrie for cause but the court overruled the challenge. The United States lawyer then peremptorily challenged the veniremen.

W. E. Barbour, who said he was president of the Lincoln Fuel company, was the second man challenged by Mr. Sheean.

New York, Dec. 13. — An organized demonstration by disaffected Irishmen and Germans stopped the mass meeting held in Carnegie hall under the auspices of the citizens' national committee in support of the ratification of the general arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France.

It routed Rabbi Stephen S. Wise who took the field against them in a vfain attempt to restore order, and finally shut down the meeting with Andrew Carnegie and Frederick R. Coudert yet to be heard from on the subject of the treaties.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE NEAR AT HAND, SAYS MRS. FRENCH

A very good representation of the club women of Ypsilanti and citizens met with the student body of Cleary College Tuesday afternoon and listened to a convincing talk on equal suffrage by Mrs. Rose M. French of San Francisco, who for a number of weeks has lectured in Michigan cities and given a vigorous impetus to the cause she represents. Mrs. French, as the wife of a prominent and prosperous physician in San Francisco, has taken a large part in the public life of California and has been connected with Leland Stanford university.

Upon being introduced by President Cleary to the audience, Mrs. French said:

"Fellow citizens and girls:—If I were in my own state, I could say 'Fellow citizens' to all of you, and the day is not far distant in Michigan when I can say this to you all." To illustrate how speedily the status of womankind changed in California after suffrage had been obtained for them, Mrs. French stated that in a paper just received she finds that the young men in Leland Stanford, being about to organize a Woodrow Wilson club, have invited the young women to join them. It was on October 10 that this change came about. "California decided," she said, "to give women the power to express their interest in the public welfare in the only way possible in America—at the ballot booth. We are no longer strangers and exiles, but 'fellow citizens.' I want you young people to keep your eyes on California and see what progress we make in bettering conditions there."

Mrs. French considered that America, in respect to granting the franchise to women, is astonishingly unprogressive, recalling to the minds of her audience the Australia, Sweden, Finland, New Zealand, Norway and even Iceland had outstripped this country. Mrs. French had come into contact with the Australian temper of mind most interestingly just recently, when an Australian band of young men had come to California to give concerts. They had never known anything but equal suffrage. Their mothers had voted for measures to make their environment healthful and helpful while they were young; when they became of voting age, it was with their mothers they talked over political measures and it was as a family they went to cast their votes. This band of Australian musicians gave a concert to raise funds for the suffrage cause and asked permission to testify in public to the cause. In many instances it was apparently their first attempt at public speaking and it was a little pathetic and a little laughable. They would

FIRE HERO ALSO IN NEED

Badly Burned in Attempted Rescue of Battle Creek Child.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 13.—Charitable friends canvassing for funds to aid Mrs. Hattie Presley, who lost her home and one of her children in a fire here last week, discovered that Claude Davis, one of the heroes of the disaster, was in quite as great need as the Presleys. Davis, an employe of the sanitarium, waded through fire and smoke in an effort to reach little Margaret, who lost her life.

While ambulances were transferring other injured to Nichols hospital, Davis walked to a friend's home and was forgotten. It developed that the flesh was burned off his face and he is incapacitated for work. His wife and children are without means of support, while the heroic father is likely to be crippled for life.

SCOUTS TO BE AT SERVICE IN A BODY SUNDAY

The committee in charge of the union farewell service to Rev. C. M. Creighton has invited the Boy Scouts of the city to attend in a body and the invitation has been accepted on behalf of the boys.

The uniforms will not be worn and every scout in the city is requested to report at the basement of the M. E. church at 6:30 Sunday evening, from which place they will proceed in a body to the service.

On Friday evening, Dec. 15, from 7 to 8 o'clock at the Normal gymnasium a meeting is called for all scouts, in order to get some practice in marching, and it is hoped that the eight patrols of the city will be fully represented. All patrol leaders are urged to notify their individual members. Mr. Gallup and Scout Masters Gordon and Willard will be on hand to take charge of the drill work. Boys having tennis shoes, soft slippers or rubbers are asked to bring them along, to save the floor of the gymnasium as much as possible.

CHICAGO CHOSEN BY REPUBLICANS

National G. O. P. Convention to Assemble June 18.

J. F. HILL HEADS COMMITTEE

Formal Statement Issued by Committeemen of Indiana and Ohio Advising Against Renomination of Taft.

Washington, Dec. 13.—Chicago was chosen as the place and June 18, 1912, as the date for the next Republican national convention at the meeting of the national committee. Former Governor John F. Hill of Maine was chosen as chairman in the place of Frank H. Hitchcock, resigned, and Harry S. New was made head of a subcommittee on convention arrangements.

In the choice of Mr. New the Taft forces won a victory in a hard fought battle.

The Republican national committee here had hardly decided these questions and concluded its other business with a fair show of harmony when E. F. Lee, chairman of the Republican state committee of Indiana, and Ex-Senator Beveridge's lieutenant, issued a formal statement, of which these sentences are the burden:

"Mr. Taft cannot carry Indiana. If he is the nominee our fight is lost before a gun is fired."

Republican national leaders discern in Lee's statement a move on the part of the Beveridge wing of the party in Indiana to fall in behind the Roosevelt movement.

Harry New, Republican national committeeman from Indiana, said when he heard of the Lee statement:

"I knew several days ago that Lee was coming to Washington to make this statement. I disagree absolutely with his prognostications in regard to the effect of President Taft's nomination. I believe Mr. Taft is the strongest man the party can nominate and I do not believe that the Republicans of Indiana will be affected by Mr. Lee's pessimistic views."

On the heels of the Lee statement came another formal statement, from Walter F. Brown, chairman of the Ohio Republican state committee. Mr. Brown declared a few days ago that Roosevelt was the choice of the Ohio Republicans for president and he has been urging for several days that the Republican national committeeman provide a way for the holding of a Republican primary for the selection of Ohio's delegates at large to the national convention.

It was the failure of the national committee to meet his views in this respect that led Mr. Brown to issue another statement. This statement intimates that the failure of the committee in this respect will result in a more determined fight in Ohio.

SHUSTER MAY STAY IN PERSIA

Compromise with Russia Expected to Save American's Office.

Berlin, Dec. 13.—A Russo-Persian compromise is probable, according to a telegram from Teheran to the German Cable company. It is reported that Russia is satisfied with Persia's apology, that the czar's government will withdraw its demand for the dismissal of W. Morgan Shuster, the American acting as treasurer general in Persia, and that it will not ask for an indemnity.

There will be Anglo-Russian control over appointments of officials by the Persian government, however, in future.

TAKE A COURSE IN THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE THIS WINTER.

The long winter evenings on the Michigan farm are valuable. They are availed by all progressive farmers by extensive reading. The city man may not think so, but we believe he will find the average farmer of Michigan today a better read man than the average city man. But we believe the Michigan farmer should devote the time necessary and (and he can spare it easily) in pursuing a systematic short course at home in some department of farming in which he is specially interested, under the direction of the M. A. C. He helps support the great state institution. It exists for his benefit. Why shouldn't he benefit as largely as possible from it?

There are courses in general agriculture, creamery management, fruit growing, poulty raising, cheese making, etc. There are no entrance examinations. The expenses are light. The text-books are valuable for future reference and twice as valuable by reason of having been studied under expert direction.

One of these courses taken during the present winter will be enjoyed while being pursued and will more than likely double the pleasure and the profit on your farm next season.

Write President J. L. Snyder, East Lansing, Michigan, for full particulars All courses begin January 2.

M'KENZIE AT SEVENTY GETS $50,000 JOB,

Friend of Roosevelt to Develop Great Ranch In Brazil.

Murdo Mackenzie, one of the best known cattlemen in Texas, is seventy years old, but he has just entered into a five year contract with a syndicate of Scotchmen to go to a remote part of Brazil and take charge of a 6,000,000 acre tract of land and convert it into a ranch property.

Mr. Mackenzie does not think it remarkable that at his age he should undertake the big job. He says that he has fifteen or twenty more good years before him and that he believes the opportunities offered him will not only tend to prolong his life, but will bring him large financial benefits. He has lived out of doors practically all of his life. For many years he has been manager of the Matador ranch in this region.

As proof of what a man of Mr. Mackenzie's age and well preserved mind and body is considered worth by practical Scotchmen, it may be stated that his contract calls for a salary of $50,000 a year American gold. Mr. Mackenzie has full authority to perfect an organization with a view to the quick development of the 6,000,000 acre tract. He will take when he goes to Brazil within the next few weeks several cowboys and men who are capable of superintending the different details of the property. The ranch will be stocked with blooded cattle.

Mr. Mackenzie is a friend of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and was with the latter on his wolf hunting trip in Oklahoma a few years ago.

WON'T GIVE UP THAT FLAG.

Mississippi Request For a Featherstone Emblem Turned Down by Its Captor.

"That flag is my most treasured possession," said J. K. Merrifield of St. Louis, telling why he will not give to the Mississippi state library the flag of General Featherstone, which he captured in the battle at Harrison, Tenn., on Nov. 30, 1864. "I captured it at the risk of my life."

Merrifield, who enlisted in 1862, when he was seventeen years old, in the Eighty-eighth Illinois infantry, received a medal of honor from congress in 1896 for capturing the flag.

Dr. Dunbar Rowland, Mississippi librarian, recently wrote to Mr. Merrifield that Mississippi had no personal mementos of Featherstone's regiment and said he would appreciate the return of the flag to its home. Featherstone himself asked the return of the flag in 1880, but Merrifield refused to give it up.

"I have left instructions with my wife," said Merrifield, "to save that flag first should our home ever catch fire."

SWANS ON SKATING POND ATTRACT MUCH ATTENLION

Seven swans swimming in a little pond to the northeast of the skating rink are the attractive sight which may be seen now from Congress street bridge. It was several years ago that the proprietor of the skating rink, F. C. Weinberg, then residing elsewhere, sent to Holland for a pair of swans. These two and their progeny were brought to this open piece of water on Friday and will doubtless prove one of the attractions of the rink. The largest of these gorgeous creatures weighs sixty pounds. When they have been in water of greater reach and depth they have displayed a ready inclination to rise and fly away. Mr. Weinberg accordingly cuts their wings each season.

say, "I never expected to come to the 'land of the free' and find that the mothers could not vote as well as the fathers."

Mrs. French did not believe that granting suffrage to women would hurl them precipitately into politics, "for," she observed, "men are not devoting themselves to politics in any great numbers; why should we fear that women would do things men are not inclined to do?" And, just as a home and wife and children do not interfere with the interest of men in politics, she did not believe that anything could keep a genuine woman from feeling a proper sense of duty toward her home. Mrs. French emphasized the fact that these instincts of care and love for home, husband and children are to be found in every good woman and that civilization itself is based upon them.

"It was the early suffragists of this country," Mrs. French claimed, "who opened the way for higher education for women. In my youth it was a strange thing for a girl to go to college, and even today in Leland Stanford there may not be more than 500 girls at one time. There was a time, too, when women were not considered to have souls, much less minds. The question was solemnly discussed at a Catholic conference. How thankful we women ought to be that they decided that we did have souls.'

The qualities of heart and mind which distinguished women and the sound grasp of affairs which men demonstrated are both needed in a rounded natonal life Mrs. French showed by picturing what a world would be which consisted of merely women or men only. The granting of the franchise to women is the logical next step for this country to take; she is now just outside the voting booth, and from that position men are quite willing she shall give forth council and spread about her influence. The spirit of the men says to the women, "Use your sweet womanly influence to secure what you want and, if you affect us enough or influence us enough, we will do what you want."

There had been a time when Mrs. French had sought another way than by the ballot to bring about better conditions. She has long been interested in ignorant, unfortunate, unprotected girls. But to effect anything for them she needed the power of the ballot in her hand, she found. Womanly influence, even with a good husband and loyal friends to back her, was not enough.

Mrs. French recounted the experiences she and other women had had when they had visited the halls of the legislature and tried to achieve things with merely "womanly influence" as weapons. They had been succinctly told by one of these men that the 50,000 women represented by them did not count any more than 50,000 mice They would asw how many votes the women represented and they would have to answer None. In her lack of the franchise woman is rated with idiots, lunatics and the criminal, and there is a possibility always that circumstances will give the ballot to any one of these three classes.

"I go home to California," declared Mrs. French, "with more hope in my heart than I felt even in my younger years. I am in politics myself now and through the power I have as a citizen I can do what I have long hoped for."

Mrs. Huntley Russell, wife of the state land commissioner, whose home is in Grand Rapids, was introduced by President Cleary and made a plea for the forming of a suffrage club in the college. It was promptly done and the following officers elected, after Mrs. Forence Signor of Ann Arbor had been made chairman: President, Mrs. Nettie Love; first vice-president, Miss Genevieve Allen; second vice-president, Mrs. Clifford Anderson; recording secretary, Mrs. Signor; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gordon; treasurer, Mrs. Wainwright.

GRANDMOTHER'S SECRET

LOOK YOUNG BY PRESERVING THE COLOR OF THE HAIR WITH SAGE AND SULPHUR.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

This remedy is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If your hair is losing color or coming out, start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what a change it will make in a few days' time.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Weinmann-Matthews Co., 118 Congress street.

Six Teams, Evenly Matched, Play Annual Schedule.

PENN HAS GOOD PROSPECTS.

Red and Blue Has Four Out of Five Men That Finished Second to Columbia Last Year—Latter Team Weaker Than In 1910.

Plans for what should be the most successful season of college basketball the east has ever seen were announced recently when the season's schedule of games was made public by the intercollegiate league. There are six teams in the league for this season, Dartmouth having been added to the original five—Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Yale and Pennsylvania. Each one of these teams plays a home and an abroad game with each other, and a very exciting series of matches is in promise this season. Never have six teams seemed so evenly matched at the start of the season as do the entrants for this year's college honors. No one team has a decided advantage. Columbia, for instance, champion last year in a tight race, starts this season with only two veterans—Captain Alexander at center and Guard Benson. Coach Harry Fisher of the Columbia team has consistently turned out a winning combination, and his supporters look for another strong team.

Pennsylvania starts out with the best prospects on paper, having four men left out of a five that finished a creditable second to Columbia, being the only team to win a game from the New Yorkers.

Yale faces a big basketball revival. Professional coaching has been done away with, and, like Pennsylvania, amateur coaching with old star players in charge is the vogue.

Another team facing a new era in basketball is Princeton. The Tigers have finished low in the race year after year, but this season they are out after a championship.

Cornell last year, under the coaching of Paul Sternburg, the old Syracuse university player, proved to be the dark horse in the race. This year the Ithacans have Sternburg again in charge, and they expect a winner.

Dartmouth, the newcomer in intercollegiate ranks, faces the first season with excellent prospects. The schedule follows:

Dec. 16—Columbia versus Dartmouth at Hanover.
Dec. 16—Pennsylvania versus Princeton at Princeton.
Dec. 21—Princeton versus Cornell at Ithaca.
Jan. 6—Columbia versus Cornell at Ithaca.
Jan. 6—Dartmouth versus Yale at Hanover.

Jan. 19—Cornell versus Yale at New Haven.
Jan. 20—Cornell versus Columbia at New York.
Jan. 20—Princeton versus Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Feb. 2—Pennsylvania versus Yale at New Haven.
Feb. 3—Pennsylvania versus Dartmouth at Hanover.
Feb. 7—Dartmouth versus Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.
Feb. 8—Dartmouth versus Columbia at New York.
Feb. 10—Yale versus Cornell at Ithaca.

COBB DOESN'T LIKE HOMERS.

Champion Batsman Claims Four Base Drives Make Him Lose His Stride.

Ty Cobb says that he does not want to make four base drives. Being the greatest batter in baseball and not caring to hit them out for the limit sounded like a ridiculous statement to many who heard Ty make the remark, but he set himself right with this explanation:

"Whenever I make a home run I go hitless for a couple of games after that. I lose my stride. I get the home run fever, and I want to knock every ball pitched to me over the fence. The result is that I do not hit them at all, and every time I get a home run it means that I lose a few points in batting."

MUNRO AND GOTCH TO MEET.

British Champion and World's Champion to Clash In Kansas City.

Alec Munro, the British wrestling champion, has accepted the offer of Frank Gotch, the title holder, of a match for the world's championship to be held in Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 27. Gotch announces that with this bout he would retire from the mat.

The match will be at catch-as-catch-can style, and the club guarantees $10,000, of which 75 per cent goes to the winner.

Devore Is Army's 1912 Captain.

Cadet Leland Devore, the big left tackle, has been chosen to captain next season's West Point football team. Devore is a member of the second class and is the tallest man in the academy, standing six feet three and a half inches and weighing 201 pounds. His work at tackle this year has stood out prominently.

BELL BROTHERS AND CAFE MEN TAKE HONORS

Tuesday night Don and Lynn Bell captured the honors in the two-man league, Zeigler and Cooney being the victims. The Bell boys rolled a steady game throughout, while Cooney was way off form and spoiled the good work of his partner. L. Bell made high score with 193 while Zeigler had high average with 175.

In the five-man league the Travelers' Cafe was returned winner over Schafarik & Sinkule. The Travelers rolled two good games but became careless and dropped the last one by a wide margin. Hayden made high score with 215 and high average with 177. The scores.

WHEN BASEBALL NEWS IS SCARCE IN CHICAGO.

A Chicago baseball writer recently told the story that when news was scarce in the office of President Murphy of the Cubs the latter would always say to the inquiring scribe, with a yawn, "Well, you might say that I've got a trade on with Brooklyn for Nap Rucker."

Of course Rucker is not for sale or trade under any circumstances, but President Ebbetts is willing nevertheless to listen to offers, as instance this story.

Horace Fogel recently tried his hand at getting Rucker.

"Charley, why can't you let Philadelphia have Rucker?" said Horace one day.

"Why, you can have Rucker," was Ebbetts' quiet rejoinder.

Fogel's heart almost stopped beating. In a hesitating sort of way he said:

"That's nice of you, Charley. I'll help you out some day. Now, what do you want for him?"

"Oh, only the whole Philadelphia team." And then Horace woke up.

WAS SICK THIRTY YEARS

Bowie, Tex.—The remarkable case of Mrs. S. J. Embry who lives near here is attracting attention, on account of her restoration to health after many pears of suffering. She tells of it in a letter as follows:

"During the past thirty years I have suffered greatly from nervous troubles and my health was badly run down. Lately I learned of your cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol, and began taking it.

"I have used several bottles and improved so fast that I at once recommended it to two friends who were in poor health. My case was complicated but Vinol did wonders for me. Every woman who suffers from nervousness and weakness should take Vinal and recover her health."

It is plain that a remedy that will overcome a chronic rundown condition like this is just what weak and sickly men, women and children everywhere need. If you want to be strong and healthy again, take Vinol, on our positive promise to give back your money if you are not satisfied. Weinmann-Matthews Co., 118 Congress street.
